

The first part of the report deals with the general situation in the country and the progress of the work of the Commission. It then goes on to discuss the various aspects of the problem, including the economic, social and cultural factors which are influencing the situation. The Commission has held several public hearings and has received many suggestions from the public. It has also conducted extensive research into the various aspects of the problem. The Commission believes that the most effective way of dealing with the problem is to take a comprehensive approach, which takes account of all the factors mentioned above. It proposes a number of measures which it believes will be effective in dealing with the problem. These measures include the following: (1) the establishment of a special committee to deal with the problem; (2) the introduction of new legislation; (3) the provision of financial assistance; (4) the improvement of the educational system; (5) the improvement of the social services; (6) the improvement of the cultural life; (7) the improvement of the economic situation; (8) the improvement of the general living conditions. The Commission believes that these measures will be effective in dealing with the problem. It also believes that the public should be kept informed of the progress of the work of the Commission. It therefore proposes to publish a regular report on the work of the Commission. The Commission also proposes to hold regular public hearings and to receive suggestions from the public. It believes that this will be the most effective way of dealing with the problem.
